Products

The SBA product range covers a variety of applications, industries and machines. With each attachment designed and tested to suit the customers specification and application our variety of buckets and attachments are sure to suit your requirements. Made from high quality materials and built to last, our specially engineered buckets and attachments will minimise operator costs and machine downtime, improve site efficiency and safety and help increase operators' capabilities.

Buckets

The SBA bucket range has innovated and improved industry standards and capabilities. Majority of the SBA buckets are designed with dual radius which offers several benefits to an outdated single radius bucket. With the dual radius instead of one this helps reduce heel drag as it doesn't have a flat bottom and allows the bucket base to follow through the teeth/edge. This is the most widespread shape accepted worldwide and offers a reduction in bucket wear, reduces the spares needed and improves the buckets capacity and loading. SBA buckets can be fully customized to suit the needs and specifications of the customer. With several pickup options, GET options, sizes and colours available, SBA is sure to find the right bucket for you.

What bucket do I need?

Your bucket needs will vary depending on what application it is being used in. Common buckets and their uses and application are:

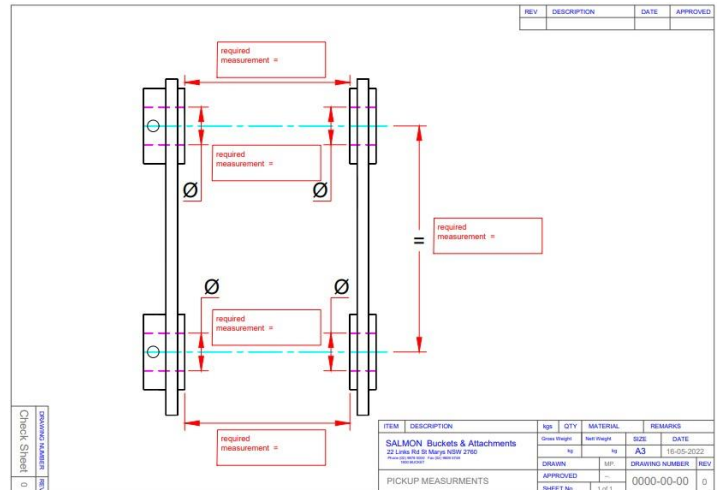

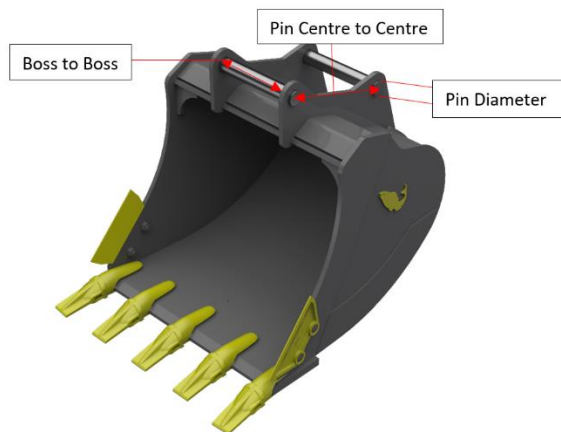

- General Purpose Buckets are used for general digging and bulking out
- Trenching Buckets are for specific sized trenches
- Slope Finishing Buckets or Mud Buckets are used for loading trucks, final trims, batters and leveling ground
- Rock Buckets are ideal for hard ground digging and excavation
- Skeleton Buckets are used for sifting and sorting rocks and other sediment from dirt and other loose debris
- Quarry Buckets are used for extreme, heavy duty use for hard, heavy materials of high capacity

Get in contact with the team at SBA for any inquiries where we can guide you to the correct equipment needed for your application.

How To Measure for an Attachment

To determine what attachment pickup you need, there are 3 measurements needed to calculate what will suit your machine. These measurements are:

- The diameter of the pins
- The internal distance from each boss to boss
- The distance between the pin centres
