

Franklands Foods have over 30 years of experience in the food industry and are quickly becoming a trusted health food and superfood wholesaler and distributor throughout Australia.

We offer organic and conventional wholesale products at very competitive prices. Bulk quantities of organic coconut, superfood, spices and dried fruit products are available to order.

Franklands Foods are well-positioned as both a manufacturer and supplier of high-quality wholesale products. Our strong network of partnerships also enables us to source food and product ingredients from all over the world easily and cost-effectively.

With our head office located in Melbourne Victoria, we are well positioned to meet local demand and to be accessible and responsive to all your customer service needs.

Hello pure is our retail store which manufacture and distribute Organic Products and are known for producing some of the finest quality organic products available on the market today.

Hello Pure is the standout choice to partner with due to our expertise, reliability, internationally accredited quality processes, high quality products and local Australian sales & distribution networks.