The Rodriguez Family started curing traditional embuditos over a century ago on their family farm in the mountainous province of Extremadura, Spain. Since then, a humble carniceria was establishment in Australia in 1976, and the business has developed ever since, servicing both regional and local clients, and being recognised as the foremost manufacturer of artisan Spanish small goods in Australia.

The Rodriguez philosophy of manufacturing is based upon traditional customer etiquette paired with sourcing quality product inputs.

All clients receive personalised service, regardless of volume. Only the highest quality ingredients are used in the manufacturing process, including 100% Australian, sow-stall-free, grain-fed pork.

The Rodriguez Family also imports a wide variety of cheeses and grocery items from Spain, Italy, and Latin America to complete your at-home cooking odyssey.
