

Judit Balázs MD, PhD,

Head of the Department of Developmental and Clinical Child Psychology of Institute Psychology Eotvos Lorand University, and Director Budapest of Education and Research of Vadaskert Child and Adolescent Psychiatric Hospital and Outpatient Clinic, Budapest.

She is tutor at the Doctoral Schools both of Eotvos Lorand University and the Semmelweis University, Budapest.

Her main interests are: adolescent suicide prevention, ADHD, adolescent risk behaviors and subthreshold mental disorders.

She is the first author of the Hungarian Guidelines on ADHD. She is the first author of several peer reviewed papers.

She was the Hungarian partner Principal Investigator of three EU sponsored collaborative projects on youth mental health coordinated by the Karolinska Institute.