● Preconference Primer If you are new to planned giving, need a refresher, or are a development generalist, this course will give you an overview of gift planning tools and concepts. Topics include tax essentials, charitable gift assets, and planned gift vehicles. You'll go to the conference with a foundation that helps you network with other attendees and get the most from every session. This session requires an additional registration fee--$149	To be announced

Wednesday, October 3 - Opening Dinner with Keynote Address 6:30 pm - 9:00 pm

Session Title	Presenter(s)
● The Art of Perception What does a charitable planner meeting a donor or client have in common with FBI agents and medical students? For all of them, astute observation is critical to professional success. And all of them have sharpened their powers of observation and communication by studying great works of art with the guidance of Amy Herman. A former director of education for The Frick Collection and Thirteen/WNET in New York, Amy brings her background in art history, law and educational programming together to teach planners to pick up visual clues that may reveal a donor's level of interest, comfort and trust. Amy will also present a breakout session on October 4.	Amy Herman , The Art of Perception, New York, NY to income, capital gains, gift, estate and generation-skipping tax laws beginning in 2013. But will Congress ever act on those changes, or perhaps institute even more radical reform? What effect will the November 6 election have on charitable tax incentives and donor confidence? The possibilities seem endless, and all of them have implications on how and when donors make charitable contributions. Our panel of insiders offers strategies for charitable planners to pursue at a time of extraordinary uncertainty.
