Opening Keynote

Marc Brown

Author of the Arthur Adventures Series

Turning One Bedtime Story into 60 Million Books

Thursday, 7:30 pm - 8:30 pm

Using children's actual questions and lots of photos, you'll discover why Marc does what he does, where he lives, where his characters came from, the coolest thing he ever did, how Harry Potter caused reading trouble, and the four things you need to know to become a bestselling author.

Marc Brown, bestselling children's author and illustrator, is the creator of the "Arthur Adventure Series" with now almost 70 million books in print in the United States alone. Trained at the Cleveland Art Institute, he has created more than one hundred picture books for children.

FRIDAY

Kristie Kauerz, Ed.D.

Research Assistant Professor, P-3 Education Policy & Leadership College of Education, University of Washington

"Us plus Them": Aligning 0-5 and K-12 to Close Early Achievement Gaps

Friday, 8:30 am - 10:00 am

Quality early learning experiences have long been seen as the foundation for later school success. However, despite years of increased investment in PreK, the United States continues to see persistent achievement gaps. Dr. Kauerz will provide an overview of the Framework for Planning, Implementing, and Evaluating PreK-3rd Grade Approaches and offer insights into how comprehensive and effective P-3 approaches expand our understanding of "early learning" to include both 0-5 and K-3. She will share how P-3 requires intentional and systematic linking and aligning with new partners and across familiar boundaries to make meaningful improvements that benefit young children and close early achievement gaps. You will leave with a clearer conceptual understanding of P-3, as well as a practical understanding of your role in this work.

Kristie Kauerz, Ed.D. specializes in education reform efforts that address the continuum of learning from birth through 3rd grade. Kristie's expertise spans policy, research, and practice as well as birth-to-five system-building and K-12 reform.

SATURDAY

Gaye Gronlund, M.A.

Early Learning Guidelines, PreK Foundations, Common Core, and High Family Expectations: Where Does Play Fit in and How Can We Stay True to the Needs of Young Children?

Saturday, 8:00 am - 9:30 am

Early childhood programs may feel under more pressure than ever. New York has developed and recently published Early Learning Guidelines and the Prekindergarten Foundation for the Common Core which align with the K-12 Common Core Standards. And, families continue to express concerns regarding the learning experiences their children need in the early years. How can we as early childhood educators advocate for play?

Following Breakout Session: Saturday, 10:00 am - 11:30 am

Communicating Effectively About Early Learning Standards with Families, Colleagues, Administrators, and Policy Makers

Explaining best practices to others can be a challenging part of our work as early childhood professionals. We know that play-based learning is best and that authentic assessment is the most informative. How do we help others to understand as well?

Gaye Gronlund, M.A., is an early childhood education consultant who works with programs across the country helping them implement best practices in curriculum and authentic assessment for young children.

Pre-Conference Opportunity

FLIP IT: Transforming Challenging Behavior

Rachel Sperry, MSW
with Tammy Goddard

Thursday, April 10, 10:00 am - 5:00 pm

FLIP IT is designed to help young children (ages 3-8) learn about their feelings, gain self-control and reduce challenging behavior. The four steps are embodied in the FLIP IT mnemonic which stands for Feelings, Limits, Inquiries, and Prompts. This strategy is nothing new, but transforms best practice into an easy to remember and applicable approach to reducing challenging behavior in young children. Children who are frequently "FLIPPED" become emotionally aware problem-solvers who develop healthy coping skills that will last a lifetime.

By the end of this session, participants will be able to...

- ✓ Participants will gain a full understanding of the 4 FLIP IT Steps (Feelings, Limits, Inquiries, Prompts) and how they work together to transform challenging behaviors.
- ✓ Participants will explore how to implement each of the four steps by learning what to say and why we say it.
- ✓ Participants will practice each newly learned step to ensure the transfer of knowledge from the training context to the adult/child interaction.
- ✓ Participants will learn the long term benefits of using the FLIP IT strategy.
- ✓ Participants will leave feeling optimistic that they have been equipped with a practical strategy that they can remember and begin to use immediately.
