The “Silver Anniversary” session of APFC returns to Rotorua, New Zealand – an area famous for its thermal activity – geysers, boiling mudpools, volcanoes – and forestry. Reserve the dates 5-8 November on your calendar and plan to attend as part of your country’s national delegation or as an international organization representative. Also plan to attend one of the seven pre-session workshops on 3–4 November on topics as diverse as Forests and natural disasters, Forest rehabilitation, Mainstreaming gender issues, Asia-Pacific Forestry College Deans’ Meeting, Forestry strategic planning and financing mechanisms, and Invasive species.

APFC has a membership of 33 countries, making it the region’s most inclusive intergovernmental body dealing with forestry.
