Would you like to deal differently with polarization?

Engage conflict in new ways?

Learn to live differently?

During this symposium, Carter Phipps, Sue Wilson and all of us will explore the frontier of what is being called integral spirituality and integral politics.

We will explore both the challenges we face in our lives and also the expanded inner consciousness needed to meet them in new ways.

“ We must journey to the frothy frontiers of culture, to the border between convention and controversy where the great cultural breakthroughs are struggling to be born. ”

Carter Phipps

Carter Phipps

Phipps is the author of the recent book Evolutionaries—Unlocking the Spiritual and Cultural Potential of Science's Greatest Ideas. He was, for 10 years, the executive editor of EnlightenNext magazine.

Carter is a leading voice in the emerging “evolutionary worldview” which combines the insights of integral philosophy, evolutionary science, developmental psychology, the social sciences, and evolutionary spirituality.

He is the Co-Founder of the Institute for Cultural Evolution, a non-profit social policy institute whose mission is to bring new insights on the evolution of culture to the arena of politics and social policy.

Sue Wilson, CSJ

Sue Wilson is Director of the Office for Systemic Justice for the Canadian Federation of the Sisters of St. Joseph where she is involved in research, advocacy, education and activism on a variety of justice issues.

Sue has a Ph.D. in moral theology with a focus on social ethics. Particular areas of interest include the dynamics of personal and social transformation, as well as the integration of contemplation and justice.

When it comes to evolution, we've all heard about fossils and fruit flies, Darwin and Dawkins. But the idea of evolution is far more profound – and far-reaching.

Today, a movement of visionary scientists, philosophers, and spiritual thinkers is forging a new understanding of evolution that honors science, reframes culture, and radically updates spirituality. Carter Phipps calls them Evolutionaries.

At this juncture in human history, urgent global crises challenge us to learn to live sustainably, in harmony and gratitude with one another, and
with the living universe.

The changes required of humanity are broad, deep and far reaching.
