

Keynote – Dr. Martin Madaus: „mHealth – Star Trek Tricorder or Game Changer for Healthcare?“

Martin D. Madaus, PhD
Chairman and Chief Executive Officer Ortho Clinical Diagnostics

Dr. Martin D. Madaus, Chairman and Chief Executive Officer at Ortho-Clinical Diagnostics, Inc. (OCD), has more than 25 years of experience in the diagnostics and life science industries.

Prior to joining OCD, Dr. Madaus served as Executive Chairman of Quanterix Corporation, and as Senior Healthcare Advisor to the Carlyle Group.

He was Chairman, President and Chief Executive Officer of Millipore Corporation (NYSE: MIL) from January 2005 to July 2010. In addition, Dr. Madaus was President and Chief Executive Officer of Roche Diagnostics Corporation North America from 2000 to 2004. Prior to that, he served as Vice President of Business Development for Roche Molecular Diagnostics, and served as the President of Roche Diagnostics Canada.

Dr. Madaus started his career in the Diagnostics Industry in 1989 at Boehringer Mannheim, Germany and served in various product management, marketing and general management roles in Germany, the United States and Canada.

Dr. Madaus has extensive public and private company board experience and currently serves on the board of Mettler-Toledo International Inc (NYSE: MTD) and Quanterix Corporation (private). In addition, he served as a Director of Covidien PLC (NYSE: COV), Millipore (NYSE:MIL), PPD International (private) and Predictive Bioscience (private).

Dr. Madaus received a Doctor of Veterinary Medicine degree from the University of Munich in Germany and a PhD in Veterinary Medicine from the Veterinary School of Hanover in Germany.

