Awards for building stars

A PAIR of Victorian developments were recognised in the Property Council of Australia's 2013 Property Innovation and Excellence awards last weekend.

The Lend Lease development of the Royal Children's Hospital received the John Holland award for Best Public Building.

Piccolo's luxury apartment development in Carlton, Garden House, was named Village Building Company Best Residential Development.

A further nod for Victoria came as businessman John Gandel, AO, was inducted into the council's Property Hall of Fame for his efforts in making Chadstone shopping centre the nation's largest shopping mall.
