Enhancing Practice
2022 Conference

A time to reflect and converse

The activities:

Use the prompts on the cards you have been given to consider engaging authentically from the perspective you are given

Use the flowers to record your responses to the questions, consider how you may do this creatively

Share your thoughts/listen to others

Coming back together

McCance & McCormack (2021, p.29) definition:
"the connectedness between people, determined by knowledge of the person, clarity of values and beliefs, knowledge of self and professional expertise"

How does engaging authentically support the ultimate goal of flourishing for all?

Critical questions to take away:

- What will you take from this exploration into your area of practice?
- How will you support others to engage authentically?
