

Professor N. A. Ahmed is currently the Head of the School of Mechanical and Industrial Engineering at the University of Johannesburg. He obtained his B. Sc. (Hons) in Mechanical Engineering from the University of Strathclyde (UK) and PhD in Compressor Aerodynamics from Cranfield University (UK). His research interests include Aerodynamics, Flow Control, Wind Turbines and Turbomachines with particular emphasis on environment friendly outcomes. He has published well over 170 peer-reviewed articles in Journals/conferences, written book, book chapters and edited books. He has frequently been invited to give Keynote addresses to many International conferences. He is a Chartered Engineer and a Fellow of IMechE.