

Kristina Sanger is a Principal at EY and industry leader in advising financial services clients on current and emerging financial crime challenges, with a focus on process improvement and the delivery of innovative solutions, leading to better business outcomes and increased regulatory compliance. Kristina has led the buildout of alternative service delivery models to support clients through technology enabled managed services and is frequently sought after to present industry points of view on these and other topics.